County Agent Advises Local Farmers to Ensilage Corn Crop

R. B. Hudgins, county agent, has released the following statement to dairymen and livestock producers:

Many of you livestock producers will be facing this winter a more serious feed shortage than you experienced in the early '30's, due to the fact that you have more livestock on the farm.

There are many farms with corn shoulder high or higher that will not produce grain even if we immediately have a good season. To help tide over winter feeding, we suggest preparing a trench silo. It has been estimated that the easiest and cheapest method of building a trench silo is to have a bulldozer scoop it out. The only other tool you will need is a silage cutter when filling the silo. These machines are found in almost every community.

The only way to save corn now growing mentioned above is to put it in a silo. Two or three neighbors could get together and in a day's time have a trench silo ready.

We have blue prints on construction of a trench silo and other information as to the size to fit the herd. This office will be glad to furnish you with this material and assist you in every way we can to help you meet your coming winter needs on feeds.

—R. B. Hudgins, County Agent.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Appomattox on Friday, August 6, at the Liberty Baptist Church, from 11 A. M. to 5 P. M.

The committee in charge of arrangements for this visit hopes to reach a goal of 100 pints of blood. Donor cards have been widely distributed.

However, the committee urges all citizens, even if they have not returned the appointment cards, to come to the church during the above hours on Friday. Arrangements have been made to take care of a large number of donors without appointments.

At brief exercises at 11:00 A. M. Appomattox will recognize donors who have given a gallon or more of blood over the period of Bloodmobile visits here. Gallon Club Pins will be presented by a representative of the Red Cross to the following: William Hubbard, J. N. Jennings, C. S. Booth, T. Hunter Dickerson, Miss Myrtle Smith, Mrs. George Collins, Edward N. Harvey, Douglas Jennings and James A. Williams.

An official from the Roanoke Red Cross Bloodmobile Center was in Appomattox Tuesday and pointed to the dire need for blood donors. He stated that hospitals were in immediate need of blood and that every citizen should realize the importance and necessity of meeting donor goals. He cited the overall good record in Appomattox, but mentioned that an extra effort might be called for in order to meet the goal of 100 pints during this vacation season.

At the last visit of the Bloodmobile to Appomattox, 90 pints of blood were donated. At that time the visit was featured by the large number of persons who became donors without appointments. They simply answered the last minute appeal and volunteered to give a pint of blood. It is hoped that a similar rush of volunteers will be seen tomorrow, so that the goal of 100 pints can be reached.
